WANTS POWER SITES TURNED OVER FOR USE NOW

Washington Senator Sees no Good Purpose in Holding Power in West for Future Generations.

(By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.)

Washington, March 5.—Further testimony charging the Chicago, Duluth and Minneapolis grain exchanges with being combinations in violation of the anti-trust laws was taken today before the house rules committee which agreed to decide Saturday whether to provide the congressional investigation asked by Representative Minahan's resolution.

It is now proposed to broaden the inquiry to investigate speculative transactions of the New York and New Orleans cotton exchanges.

Officials of the grain exchanges will be heard late today and tomorrow.

Benjamin Drake of Minneapolis today continued his charge that the Minneapolis chamber of commerce is a private monopoly.

Farmers' elevators were denied accommodation by the banks and forced to deal with the commission houses, Drake said. He charged the Minneapolis chamber maintained a "concerted boycott" against the Equity Co-operative Exchange grain and had not bought a kernel of that grain for months. He put into the record a letter from Secretary McHugh of the chamber to the manager of a farmers' elevator company, which he had sustained his charge.

Drake contended "repeated and useless sales" on the exchange added to the burden on the growers. Commission houses which bought from growers never sold directly to consumers, he said, but sold to other brokers, who perhaps sold to others before the sale to the consumer was reached. The result, he said, was a system of double and triple commissions levied on the grain and paid by the farmer.

STATE DEPARTMENT IS SHORT ONE COUNSELLOR

Rumors of Misunderstanding Between Secretary Bryan and John Bassett Moore Persistent.

(By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.) Washington, March 5.—John Bassett Moore's resignation was effective last night and the state department was without a counsellor.

Although the official correspondence between President Wilson and Mr. Moore announcing his resignation emphasized that the counsellor was leaving the government service only because the term for which he had promised to serve was at an end, there was continued discussion in official and diplomatic circles of lack of harmony between Secretary Bryan and Mr. Moore, and persistent stories of how Mr. Moore became dissatisfied with the arrangement of his duties in the state department.

While it was admitted that Mr. Moore's views on the recognition of the Huerta government and the administration's course in other foreign affairs differed from those of his chief, all officials took pains to say that the counsellor had carried out administration policies when once agreed on. One phase of the resignation being widely discussed was that Mr. Moore at the end of his administration found himself performing duties usually assigned to officials far below the rank of counsellor and at times learned much regarding the administration's policies from news dispatches. One of such instances was referred to today was when Mr. Moore first heard of the sending of John Ladd to Mexico through the newspapers.

Discussion of possible successors continued without any announcement of a selection.

FORESTRY MEN IN CONFERENCE ON FIRE FIGHTING

Supervisors of All Reserves in Two States Gather at Third District Headquarters to Study Best Methods.

With their efforts centered on plans for the standardization of fire-fighting methods, the supervisors of the chief forest reserves of this state and Arizona continued their annual fire conference at the offices of the Third district in the Loma-Stickley building today. It is probable that the conference will continue for several days, although it was thought at first that it might be ended by tomorrow.

There are other questions relating to fire protection in the national forests, but the chief task before this conference is the establishment of standard methods in fighting the great enemy of the timber growth. It is hoped to evoke one general system that will meet all the conditions likely to arise.

A. C. Ringland, the district forester, returned from the annual meeting of the foresters at Salt Lake City last night, and today took prominent part in the fire conference. The supervisors at the conference are: H. G. Calkins, Manzano-Zuni national forest; Charles H. Jennings, Sitgreaves national forest; W. H. Goddard, Davis national forest; John D. Guthrie, Apache national forest; Don P. Johnson, Demers-Pecos national forest, and Willard M. Drake, Coconino national forest. James F. Muller, the forest service engineer is also taking part in the conference.

HYDE MAKES DEFENCE OF COLLEGE FRATERNITIES

(By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.) New Haven, Conn., March 5.—Expressions of gratitude in the form of kisses were showered on William D. Hyde, station master of the Pennsylvania railroad station here last night by 27 men and women members of an emigrant band, because he had been instrumental in restoring to them a flour sack which contained $25,000 in gold and bills.

The party, en route from Montana to Poland, dined in the station and then started for the pier to board the steamship Olympic. In her haste the wife of the leader of the band, to whom her fellow travelers had entrusted their money left the bag in a waiting room, where it was found by an attendant and turned over to Egan. His contents had hardly been counted when the emigrants rushed back in great excitement, clamoring for their money.

When they learned that every dollar of the $25,000 was intact they made a rush for Egan.
